THE state of affairs among the Republicans of the Seventh Ward is well set out in today's Times. There are some earnest men in that ward.

We have got about everything in Los Angeles that heart can wish, but with Jim Blaine among us the cup will slop over. No use talking—it's all coming our way.

THE Republican State Central Committee's official announcement of next Saturday night's big meeting in Los Angeles is printed in THE TIMES this morning.

The repeated announcement in the Evening Trombone that the election today is for water bonds is a dark and devious delusion. No such election takes place today.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Evening Express, wants a museum in Los Angeles. If the town ever gets such a thing it is a safe gamble that the Express will be "in it."

Is it about time we heard something about the keynote of the campaign? If it has been sounded it was damped so that we didn't understand what the sounder was driving at.

The Toledo Blade has an idea that the reason Dave Hill didn't call on Adlai is because Dave don't drink. This makes it perfectly clear to us why Mr. Hill failed to get the nomination at Chicago.

"VERITAS" and others who are flying on the cholera question are now filling up the newspapers back East with recipes. If we are to have our choice as between the recipes and the disease, just give us the old Asiatic and be done with it.

Mr. WATTERSON is still industriously rippling up the Republican policy of protection in dark red language, but he finds it hard to keep his memory on the fact that Grover is running for President. Crow never was a popular dish in Kentucky.

THIS is the wild and wooly western continent, but we can't fling spuds, cabbages and other edibles at a public speaker on a campaign stump, like they do over in "Hold Hingland." Thank the Lord we are protected from that sort of manners.

The murder of McWhirter at Fresno smacks of the Mississippi and South Carolina method entirely too much for the climate of California. There is no room here for the midnight assassin, and the man with the gun will probably find it out very shortly.

THE HON. WILLIAM WILLIAMS, that famous wielder of the tariff sledge-hammer, expects to make the ablest protection speech of his life next Saturday evening in this city, if he is given a fair chance. That he is entitled to. He has made a "good ready."

A WILD-ED AND LOOSE-LANGUED LOCAL CONTEMPORARY calls in a loud and preposterous voice upon the people to vote today for "water" bonds in order that a distinguished plumed and knightly American statesman may not be under the necessity of going dry or moving away after he comes among us to live. If we may be permitted, it is raw sewage which we don't want to feed folks on.

ALEXANDER CROW, formerly of Los Angeles, and now of the State Entomological Department, is in town, with Prof. Koebel, to whom California is indebted for the Vedalia cardinalis, the destroyer of the white cottony cushion scale. In regard to the new red scale parasites, sent by Mr. Koebel from Australia, about which some doubts have been expressed, he states it as his firm belief that they will do effective work, if given time. They are slower than the vedalia, but Mr. Koebel says they are sure.

OLIN WELLBORN, the great single-handed tariff talker, who parlayed the Fresno convention with a speech one hour and ninety minutes in length, has been nominated for Congress in the new Seventh District. When the people go to hear him from the stump they had better take along their canteens, for things get mighty arid when Wellborn turns loose. And yet it would be just like the prolonged person to get away with Showman Bowers.

The Bond Election.

Today the people of Los Angeles are called upon to vote upon the question of issuing municipal bonds to the amount of $896,000 to construct an outfall sewer to the sea. The particulars of the project have all been pretty thoroughly canvassed, and we believe the majority of the voters have made up their minds that it is necessary to promote the health and prosperity of the city to go ahead with the work. The interior system of sewers is well advanced toward completion according to plans made several years ago, and it is necessary to provide an adequate outlet for this system. The proposed outfall to the sea, with ample provision for utilizing the sewage for irrigation when it is available, is offered as the most feasible way of solving the problem.

In voting the sewer bonds there is no danger of forestalling the issuance of bonds hereafter for water works purposes, should the people desire them. The $2,000,000 limit of indebtedness allowed the city in the charter does not apply to sewer or water bonds.

Between trying to placate both Queen Vic and Labouchere, Mr. Gladstone does not find his new job anything of a sinecure. Well, the old man knows how it is, for he is something of a kicker himself.

Mrs. FRANK LESLIE WILDE says the climate of America is too "stimulating" for her "Little Willie," so she left him on the other side. Well, Willie, we don't miss you.

WILD-EYED AND WOBBLY.

The Evening Express's Vigorous "Water" Bonk Campaign.

Most people have been under the impression that the election today would be on the question of issuing bonds to construct an outfall sewer to the sea. It appears that this is a mistake; it will be on the water bond election, as will be seen by the following from the "paper of today," the Evening Express:

THE HARBOR QUESTION.

Views of an Advocate of Santa Monica.

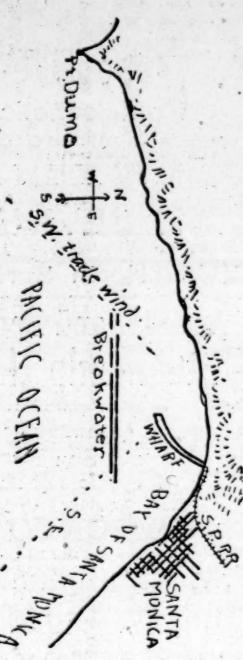

Advantages Which He Says That Place Has Over San Pedro.

A Great Saving in Time in the Handling of Freights.

From Six to Twenty-four Hours Gained on Shipments—Some of the Natural Advantages to Be Considered. Proposed Improvements.

Interest in the harbor question increases as the date for the arrival of the Board of Engineers approaches, and the advocates of the three points from which a selection is to be made are getting their data in shape for presentation to the best possible advantage.

In discussing the question yesterday, one of the advocates of Santa Monica, a gentleman who has given the subject much thought, and who is apparently well posted, stated that the first and greatest advantage which that place possesses over San Pedro is the saving in distance and time which will be made, should the harbor be constructed there. "It is a well-settled fact," said the gentleman, "that almost all the freight which is delivered by water in Southern California comes from the north. It follows, therefore, that to reach San Pedro it must be carried past Santa Monica, and thus from six to twenty-four hours' time is consumed, according to whether the freight be carried by steamer or by rail. Then again, as the freight has been landed, time can be saved, as the distance by rail from Santa Monica to Los Angeles is fully one-third less than from San Pedro.

The importance of this saving should not be under-estimated, for in this age of rapid transit, when railroads construct expensive works to save an hour or two, or even less, every minute counts."

"Then, too," continued the gentleman, "the natural advantages of Santa Monica over San Pedro are such as to appear to be the most superficial. To begin with, the almost impossible to make a landing outside of San Pedro, for the reason that a breakwater cannot be constructed that will afford protection during southeast gales. At Santa Monica a breakwater can be constructed that will only afford protection, but a vessel can sail or rather float in at Santa Monica during a southeaster, the current setting up the coast, and sail out again on the southeast coast, as you can readily see. [Hastily drawing a rough outline of the proposed harbor improvement at Santa Monica, which he reproduced herewith.] Now, this would be impossible at San Pedro, and is of itself, in my judgment, sufficient reason to cause the engineers to give the matter the most careful consideration. But this is not all. The currents running up and down the coast will keep the harbor scoured out, and there will be no expense for dredging and no danger of bars forming.

"Another argument in favor of Santa Monica must not be overlooked. Los Angeles is a great building in the direction of the ocean at San Pedro, and it is only a question of time when the city will extend to the sea, and then it will be a good thing to have our harbor at our back door, where it properly belongs.

This state of affairs does not hold good so far as San Pedro is concerned. The city is not going in that direction, nor will it ever do so, for the reason that natural conditions are against it.

"Of course it may be urged that the Santa Monica Harbor will be in the interest of the Southern Pacific, and this is, in a measure, true. But this must be remembered that the Southern Pacific is more interested in having good harbor facilities in Southern California than any other corporation. Fully 90 per cent. of the customs dues at San Pedro are paid by the company on its imports of coal for fuel, and as the heaviest customer of the port it is not unreasonable that they should feel an interest in it.

"The above are, of course, only my individual opinions. A deep-water harbor for Southern California is a necessity, and every citizen should use his influence to secure a liberal appropriation for that purpose. We should go about the matter with deliberation, and whichever place is selected there should be concerted, united effort to have it improved. For the reasons given I favor Santa Monica, and will do what I can to secure favorable consideration for that place; but in case another place should be agreed upon I will work for it."

LOOKS LIKE BUSINESS.

Government Engineers on the Way to Survey for a Harbor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—[By the Associated Press.] Col. Craighill, at the head of the Government corps of engineers, will reach San Francisco tomorrow in company with a staff of assistants. The party will proceed at once to Los Angeles and make surveys for a harbor on the coast opposite that city. The survey made by the Government commission some time ago resulted in a recommendation that the harbor of San Pedro be improved, but after the report of the commission was made, so many adverse criticisms were made upon it, and the remonstrances of Los Angeles people were so pronounced, that another survey was deemed expedient.

In speaking of the presence of Col. Craighill, William H. Mills remarked that no recent work initiated by that gentleman was of greater interest than that of securing a safe and accessible harbor for Los Angeles. The whole State is interested in the matter said Mr. Mills. "Every measure that tends to bring trade and people to any part of California should be advocated by every citizen. People living south of Tehachapi are, of course, especially interested because a good harbor at Los Angeles means a great volume of business in the importing way, and also the opening of new markets for that section of the State."

"It is probable that the present survey will cover all the available shore line about Santa Monica and San Pedro, and it is to be hoped that it will result in the speedy commencement of the construction of a harbor."

STOPPED BY THE COURTS.

A Baking Powder Company Enjoined From Slandering Its Competitors. [San Francisco Chronicle.]

In a recent news article exposing the fraudulent tricks which a baking powder concern comparatively new to the Pacific Coast was making through its visiting agents in the kitchens of San Francisco, it was stated that the parties performing these tricks had elsewhere gotten themselves into trouble with the courts.

It will be remembered that the tricks were performed by means of false and doctored samples of powder, and that the agents at the same time distributed defamatory advertisements or made false verbal statements in the effort to show something wrong in the baking powder found in the house visited.

The baking powder company responsible for these practices having disputed the statement that they had been stopped elsewhere by the courts, the following report of the case will be of interest:

Complaint was made before Judge Ross in the High Court of Justice, of Costa Rica, against both the baking powder company and agents who, in addition to the circulation of the defamatory matter, and an injunction asked. After a hearing the Court granted a permanent injunction against the company and all its employees, as follows:

"This court doth order and adjudge that the defendants and each of them, their and each of their respective workmen, servants and agents be and they are hereby perpetually restrained from publishing, circulating or distributing in any way whatever books, pamphlets and circulars, containing any statement or declaration that the plaintiff's baking powder contains arsenic or ammonia, and that said baking powder is unwholesome, unfit for consumption, and an injury to the public health, with costs to be taxed, including the costs of and incidental to this application, etc."

The company enjoined was the same that has recently been working the baking powder tests in this city by the aid of innocent women. It will be noticed that the order includes all "workmen, servants and agents."

Housekeepers will be very grateful if the word of the State is relieved them from the misgivings of the kitchen baking powder testers, "lady analysts" and all, by a similar injunction against their scandalous and illegitimate methods.

Market strong for best grapes. A car of apricots has been sold at 13¢ per spot. Buyers want to see the goods this season before purchasing."

MONEY, STOCKS AND BONDS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The stock market was dull and featureless, the only exception being St. Paul and Reading and a few others. A tendency to improve prevailed at the close, which was very dull, but firm, and generally slightly higher. The pressure to sell Reading caused a reaction in that stock. The strength of St Paul impressed a firm temper to the whole list. Government bonds closed dull.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—MONEY.—On call, cash, 4.50%; 90 days, 4.50%; prime, 4.50%; prime mercantile paper, 4.50%; sterling exchange—quiet, but easy; 60-day bills, 4.80%; demand, 4.875%.

Politics Liven Up as the Primaries Approach.

A Handful of Ward-workers are Accused of Spraying Traps.

A New Water-pipe to Be Laid to the Raymond.

Work at Devil's Gate Will Probably Be Carried Forward—People Returning From the Summer Resorts—Brevities.

The primaries are only two days off, and as nothing seems to affect political affairs at fever heat, interest centers almost entirely in the fight between W. E. Arthur and Capt. Simpson for the Assembly. Delegates will be elected squarely on this issue without regard to their leaning toward the other gentlemen, who will present their claims before the county convention in Los Angeles on Tuesday of next week.

Yesterday THE TIMES made public for the first time the nature of the petitions which are being circulated by Capt. Simpson's friends. Surprise was naturally expressed at the desire expressed by these gentlemen to depart from the usual custom of holding a convention meeting of their delegates. Such sentiments, however, seem to meet with the disapproval of some of Capt. Simpson's friends, as is evidenced from the following communication, which was received yesterday for publication:

Another communication, one of many, follows. It is printed because it is brief: I was surprised to learn in your paper yesterday that Capt. Simpson had decided to do away with a public caucus in the present campaign. He states in his petition that the caucus system is very unsatisfactory to a majority of our party, and the inference is drawn out that representative men cannot be secured to act as delegates by such a system.

Heretofore caucus meetings have invariably been held on all occasions. I have been present at pretty nearly all of them, and am in full agreement with Capt. Simpson who has presided in nearly every instance, and himself has appointed the committees, who did what was alleged to be machine work. This is the first time in the history of local politics that I have known Capt. Simpson or any of his friends to object to a caucus meeting.

OLD TIMER.

WAKE UP.

The water companies meet once in a while and decide to continue or not continue the work of tunneling for the purpose of developing more water. Meanwhile everybody outside of the water companies are doing their best to keep the public interest manifested in the matter of the town's future supply. Nobody seems to care when it goes dry or not.

Men and brethren, it is time to wake up. The water growing day by day, the water supply is increasing. There is plenty of water in the winter time, but there isn't during the summer months. The only practical solution of the question, as any one who has any knowledge of the subject will tell you, is in the construction of immense storage reservoirs, so that some of the winter overflow may be saved for summer consumption. It takes time to build such reservoirs and it will take a longer time to perfect a plan for their construction.

Let the people of Pasadena have a care lest the supply of water runs short before summer is over, but let us all, men and women, who would witness themselves, and take cognizance of the importance of the question, something definite would be accomplished. Pasadena has a great future before it, which cannot now be blighted by a scarchy time. There is the time to act. THE REPUBLICAN CLUB.

A special meeting of the Republican Club was held yesterday evening at the City Hall. It was not very largely attended for the reason that comparatively few of the members knew of it.

President J. A. Coleman presided and Theodore Colebrook in his capacity as secretary. It was decided to attend the opening of the Republican campaign in Los Angeles Saturday evening in a body. It is earnestly desired that there be a full turnout of members, and all Republicans, whether members of the club or not, be invited to swell the ranks. Several enthusiastic speeches followed, after which the meeting adjourned.

SPECIAL SALVATION ARMY SERVICES.

The Salvation Army's special services have been well attended so far this week. Yesterday was local officers' day. At 8 o'clock in the evening the officers of the Pasadena Corps were sworn in and commissioned.

Today will be field day. Pasadena has furnished fourteen officers for the army and there are still more to follow. This evening's meeting will be continuing the work of spiritual protest. Tomorrow will be junior day, when organized work for children will be inaugurated in Pasadena.

SOME SERIOUS CHARGES MADE.

In today's issue you will notice adversely on the petition plan of placing candidates before the Republicans primaries to be voted for Friday. Has it forgotten the many instances of a bad result from striking at caucuses in the past in springing traps to carry the caucuses for them?

In the petition plan adopted this year by those who favor Capt. Simpson for Assembly, the wishes of the two voters are expressed in the plan that they are adopted by many localities where fair play and justice are regarded, and is the only apparent way to secure a thoroughly representative delegation, who will be sure to nominate a good, clean Republican ticket, which is more necessary than at the present time.

If all the Republican voters of Pasadena turn out to the primaries on Friday there will be no fear for the result.

REPUBLICAN.

MORE PIPES TO BE Laid.

At the special meeting of the Lake Vineyard Water Company, held Monday evening, it was decided to advertise for bids for laying a four-inch pipe from reservoir No. 1 to the Raymond Hotel to fulfill a contract entered into last spring with Mr. Raymond. The distance covered will be nearly three miles, and will be in Los Angeles only yesterday to purchase the pipe.

The question of continuing the tunneling at Devil's Gate was discussed, but no definite action was taken. It is understood that the men are almost unanimously in favor of continuing the work of development at this point.

NOTICE TO REPUBLICANS.

"All the Republicans voters of Pasadena who favor the nomination of Mr. Arthur for the Assembly, and all those who are not in sympathy with having nominations by petition forced upon them, are requested to assemble at 8 o'clock to select delegates to be voted for at the primary election to be held Friday, September 2.

THE COURTS.

The Cable Company's Paving on Figueroa Street.

Judge Smith Will Today Revoke His Former Order Calling a Grand Jury and Issue a New One—General Court Notes—Calendar.

The matter of the approval of the contract entered into by Receiver J. F. Crank of the Pacific Railway Company, and John H. Drain for the paving of Figueroa street between Washington and Pico streets came up for hearing before Judge Wade in Department Three yesterday morning, but was continued until this morning.

A petition was, however, presented by John D. Pope, Esq., on behalf of D. S. Dorn and J. McKee, two bondholders, praying that the contract be disapproved, and the Court decline and refuse to issue receiver's certificates to the amount of $13,608.76 for the purpose mentioned in said contract; and further, that if the contract be approved, the receiver's certificates be declared subordinate and subsequent to the lien created by the debt on trust by which petitioners' bonds were secured. The matter was fully heard by Judge Wade, who refused to grant the prayer of the petition, from which it may be inferred that he will today authorize the issuance of the certificates mentioned for the purpose of meeting the indebtedness to be incurred by the paving of Figueroa street.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Two Railway Laborers Almost Instantly Killed.

One on the Southern Pacific, the Other on the Santa Fe.

Section Hand Run Over by a Work Train Near Puenta.

An Oilier Run Down by a Freight Train While Switching in the First Street Yards—A Man's Leg Broken.

Another Accident.

Yesterday was a lively day in the railway accident line, and there are two really mangled bodies lying in the morgue as a result of the day's work.

THE FIRST ACCIDENT.

The first accident occurred at noon on the line of the Southern Pacific at Puenta.

The company has had a work train in that neighborhood for some days past, and just before noon it started to back up to the station.

It was loaded with gravel and a number of laborers and section men were on the flat cars. Many of them were seated in their favorite manner, with their legs dangling over the sides of the cars.

Among this number was an old Italian named Pietro Benneto, who sat on the front end of the first car, and as his car was being pushed along at a lively rate of speed he lost his balance in some manner and fell on the track in front of the car.

He was caught by the wheels, and his head down to the waist was frightfully mangled. He was dead before any of his companions reached him. The body was removed to a passenger train and sent to the city.

Last evening at 7 o'clock Coroner Weldon held an inquest on the remains at Orr & Sutch's on North Spring street, and the jury found that death was the result of an accident. Deceased was about 55 years of age, a native of Italy and unmarried.

JOHN MCNERNEY KILLED.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon another frightful accident took place in the Santa Fe yards at the foot of Second street, in which an older man named John Mcnerney lost his life.

The bones in his legs were broken in a dozen places, and the wheels had torn the flesh from his legs from the hips down. He presented a most horrible appearance, and the strong man who reached to his side were compelled to turn their faces away while they lifted his bleeding body into the dead-wagon given to him.

No one noticed the unfortunate man until it was too late, and if he heard the warning cry of the trainmen he paid no attention to it.

The usual demands were presented and approved.

Officer Marden reported that the Arcade saloon, No. 108 East First street, has a sign reading "Family entrance" and had refused to remove the same when notified.

He presented a most horrible appearance, and the strong man who reached to his side were compelled to turn their faces away while they lifted his bleeding body into the dead-wagon given to him.

He was quite a young man, and has a number of friends among the railroad men. His remains were taken to the undertaking rooms of Hopkins & Sons, where an inquest will be held this morning at 10 o'clock.
